

For Billy Mills, the first few thousand miles were the hardest.

Billy Mills brought home a gold medal from the 1964 Olympics in Japan. He won the tough 10,000 meter run. But the really tough part was getting the money to get him and his teammates over to Tokyo.

It takes a lot of money to field a winning Olympic team. And there's an easy way for you to help raise that money: buy Bank of America Travelers Cheques.

Because, every time you buy Bank of America Travelers Cheques, part of the proceeds from the sale go to the U.S. Olympic Committee. So by asking for our travelers cheques at your bank, you help equip and train our athletes. Help them get to the Olympics. Help them win when they get there.

And it doesn't cost you anything extra.

We think everybody should back our Olympic team. And if you buy that, you'll buy Bank of America Travelers Cheques. They're sold at leading banks everywhere.

They don't cost any more.
They just do a lot more.

Meet Director

Tony Sucec is the Meet Director for this Sixth Annual San Diego Indoor Games.

Starting as assistant meet director for the 1965 All-American Games at Berkeley and for the 1966 National AAU Indoor Championships at Berkeley, he has continued to organize the many facets of a track meet with great success.

He has directed the San Diego Relays since 1968, and as the highly successful Cross Country coach at San Diego State he hosts the Aztec Invitational. Both of these events have attracted many of the world class athletes who will be here on the boards today.

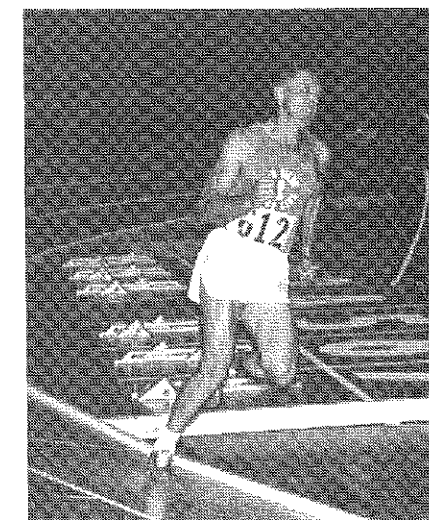

As a student at State, Tony won the California Cross Country Championship in 1958, and he has continued to run well enough during the fall months to stay with many of his good runners.

General Chairman

David H.R. Pain is General Chairman for the Indoor Games. An attorney, he started running at 45, joined the San Diego Track Club, and founded the U.S. Masters Track & Field Championships in 1968 for athletes over 40 years.

He still runs at any distance from 100 yards (11.9) to the marathon (4:42:00) and looks upon his association with the San Diego Track Club as one of the most satisfying aspects of his life.

SDTC President

Bill Stock, elected by the San Diego Track Club Board of Directors to be 1972 president, has earned their respect in another way — he runs faster than most of them.

Currently the AAU Masters steeplechase champion (10:50.4), and a member of our AAU Masters Cross Country Championship team, Bill started running at 39, just 3 years ago. A San Diego native and a captain in the city of San Diego fire department, last month he became only the eighth American over 40 to run a sub-2:40 marathon with his 2:39.56 in the SDTC — conducted Mission Bay Marathon.

THE SAN DIEGO TRACK CLUB

The San Diego Track Club, the motivating and driving force behind the San Diego Indoor Games, is one of the largest track clubs in the nation. It probably is the most active. It certainly is one of a kind in the U.S. and maybe even the world.

What makes SDTC so different is the diversity of its membership. Behind this diversity lies the strength of the club.

SDTC has 362 members — a phenomenal growth from its 92 members in 1968 and the handful from its beginning in 1958. Of this total, 132 are college-age or young adults in the open division, 79 are high school boys and girls, 122 are men and women age 40 and over, and 29 are family memberships.

SDTC has no paid employees. Yet in this past year, the club with great success staged three national AAU championships, two marathons — one the prestigious Mission Bay marathon —, a dozen or more Southern California cross country meets, the nationally acclaimed San Diego Relays at Easter, and summer bi-weekly developmental meets for persons of all ages, plus a generous sprinkling of track events and road races through the year.

How was it done? Through a legion of dedicated members, who each have a multitude of skills and expertise in addition to their own love of running and track participation. Of the 17 club directors, there are college professors and coaches, a banker, business executives, a civil engineer, students, a fireman, a newspaper journalist.

SDTC members are not just a string of names on a membership list. They are active participants — both in running meets and running in meets. This produces both top competitors and meets.

The club fields competitive teams that include athletes the caliber of Arnie Robinson, 1971 AAU and Pan American Games long jump champion, who was ranked #1 in the world by Track and Field News, and Wes Williams, who had second-best time in the world last year in the 440 intermediate hurdles.

In distance running, SDTC teams have been sent to each of the last six AAU cross country championships, placing as high as third. A team of SDTC veterans, men age 40 and over, in November won the first annual AAU Masters Cross Country championships in Detroit.

SDTC has pioneered in producing competitions for veteran runners. David Pain, general chairman of the Indoor Games, conceived and promoted the idea of national competition for veteran runners with the first U.S. Masters Track and Field Championships in Balboa Stadium in 1968. The meet is now recognized by the AAU as the national track and field championships. International competition also is being organized. A U.S. team of men age 40 and over will compete in Europe before and after the Olympics.

Women athletes also are encouraged. SDTC schedules the competition of women and girls in its track and field and cross country events. Nadia Garcia, a high school senior, was discovered by SDTC last spring in a jogging class. She's now on her way to national and possibly international laurels for her extraordinary running ability.

To nurture talent in all persons is paramount in SDTC's creed. It thrives on these words.

THE 1972 SAN DIEGO INDOOR GAMES

For the first time, the meet has received AAU, USTFF, NCAA, and Junior College and CIF sanctions.

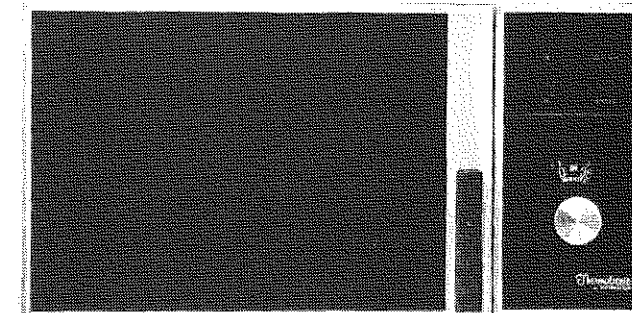

This has enabled us to bring you the best of talent in all divisions and has greatly expanded the meet from the 34 events of last year to the 73 competitions of 1972.

Since the hockey ice will remain in place this season, a special crew of 70 SDTC members was required to work all night to help arena personnel in the erection and shimming of the track. The problems have been greater, but we feel the effort to expand competitive opportunities will be justified in your increased enjoyment of the meet.

Thank you for being here . . . . .

Global and U.S. Indoor Marks

Courtesy of Track and Field News

There are no official "world indoor records", i.e., marks recognized by the IAAF or any other international body. The marks carried in these lists are those marks recorded in legitimate competition which have been passed by Track & Field News' record committee. The only restriction placed on performances is that marks around a turn must come on tracks of 220-yards or less.

In the past, Track & Field News has followed the AAU list of American indoor records. However, the AAU has made sweeping changes regarding indoor marks this year. Marks made on non-board surfaces (dirt, clay, etc.) are now acceptable (but not retroactively). Also, many events have been moved from the "noteworthy" to acceptable category. A finalized list of accepted records and events is not yet available to Track & Field News, so the following US list represents all marks which Track & Field News knows for certain have been accepted by the AAU, with Track & Field News-approved marks in other events.

The 1st Marine Division Band
Camp Pendleton, California

The entire west coast of our Nation is familiar ground for the precision-stepping musical members of the 1st Marine Division Band based at Camp Pendleton, California.

Approximately half of the band members have spent a tour of duty in the jungles of Vietnam. Several of the Marine musicians are authorized to wear the Purple Heart medal for wounds received while under hostile fire.

The 1st Marine Division Band is presently directed by Chief Warrant Officer-4 Lawrence T. Martin. The band musicians stand by ready and trained for duty wherever and whenever they may best serve the nation and the corps.

For Billy Mills, the first few thousand miles were the hardest.

Billy Mills brought home a gold medal from the 1964 Olympics in Japan. He won the tough 10,000 meter run. But the really tough part was getting the money to get him and his teammates over to Tokyo.

It takes a lot of money to field a winning Olympic team. And there's an easy way for you to help raise that money: buy Bank of America Travelers Cheques.

Because, every time you buy Bank of America Travelers Cheques, part of the proceeds from the sale go to the U.S. Olympic Committee. So by asking for our travelers cheques at your bank, you help equip and train our athletes. Help them get to the Olympics. Help them win when they get there.

And it doesn't cost you anything extra.

We think everybody should

back our Olympic team. And if you buy that, you'll buy Bank of America Travelers Cheques. They're sold at leading banks everywhere.

They don't cost any more.
They just do a lot more.
