State of California

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO 95814

Once again I am pleased to greet the participants, officials and spectators of the National Decathlon Championships.

Participation in this outstanding event comes to the athletes who have dedicated themselves to many hours of self-discipline, practice and study, and I commend them for their devotion to their sport. From this event there will no doubt be those whose perseverance and dedication will carry them to greater recognition and on to the World Olympics.

My best wishes are extended to all for a most successful and memorable affair.

Sincerely,

RONALD REAGAN
Governor

CITY OF PORTERVILLE TULARE COUNTY

The City of Porterville is very proud to host the AAU Decathlon Championships of 1973.

As Mayor, I am especially happy to offer an official welcome to the decathlon participants and spectators.

This is the second occasion that Porterville has been given the honor of hosting the AAU Decathlon Championships. We feel this demonstrates Porterville's enthusiasm for the competitive spirit of sports.

The decathlon was virtually unknown to the average Tulare County resident prior to the day that a young Tulare High School athlete, Bob Mathias, brought home a gold medal from London. Within a few years after Mathias's retirement, Rafer Johnson of Kingsburg took up the event and won a gold medal at the 1960 Olympics in Rome.

Because of these two outstanding athletes, Tulare County is perhaps more aware of the grueling decathlon than most areas of our country.

To all who have made the 1973 National AAU Junior/Senior Decathlon Championships a success:

As president of the Porterville Noon Lions Club, I have the pleasure of extending thanks to all who have helped to make this meet a success. The list is far too extensive to risk setting down names of those responsible, but special mention must be given to Si Tyler, to whom this program is dedicated, who has again brought this meet to Porterville.

The Noon Lions Club is honored to sponsor the meet, but success is due to so many representing various Porterville service clubs and to the others who have given of their own. All of the funds netted from this effort will be used for community projects here in Porterville in the same cooperative spirit as demonstrated by those who have helped.

The pictures included in this program are to remind us of the exceptional outdoor recreational values available in Porterville's backyard. Although it may be summer on the Valley floor, it is still spring in the Sierra to the east. This is the fitting background to the scene of this year's meet.

The competition in these championships will be keen. Each of the participants have our best wishes and support. We are all proud to sponsor this meet, to help encourage these fine athletes, and to contribute to our community's needs.

Sincerely,

Fran Torigian, President
Porterville Noon Lions Club

A Note about the Color Photos

In the Spring of the year, the hills and fields surrounding Porterville become a blanket of color. The California poppies on the front cover were photographed only two miles from the heart of downtown Porterville.

Our centerfold is of Middle Rae Lake located at 10,500 foot elevation in the South Fork of the Kings River. Even during the peak of the summer season, snow flurries are not uncommon. A storm is shown retreating to the left of the picture while sunshine dances upon the water to the right.

Fall comes to the Sierra with the turning of the Aspen leaves and snow on the higher peaks. The scene on the back cover was taken from Castle Domes Meadow and is of an unnamed peak just to the west of Mt. Baxter, at the head of the Woods Creek drainage.

Porterville is the portal to these fabulous recreational opportunities of the Southern High Sierra.

CONGRESSMAN BOB MATHIAS

Congressman Bob Mathias represents California's 18th Congressional District in the U.S. House of Representatives. His District is located in Tulare and Kern Counties.

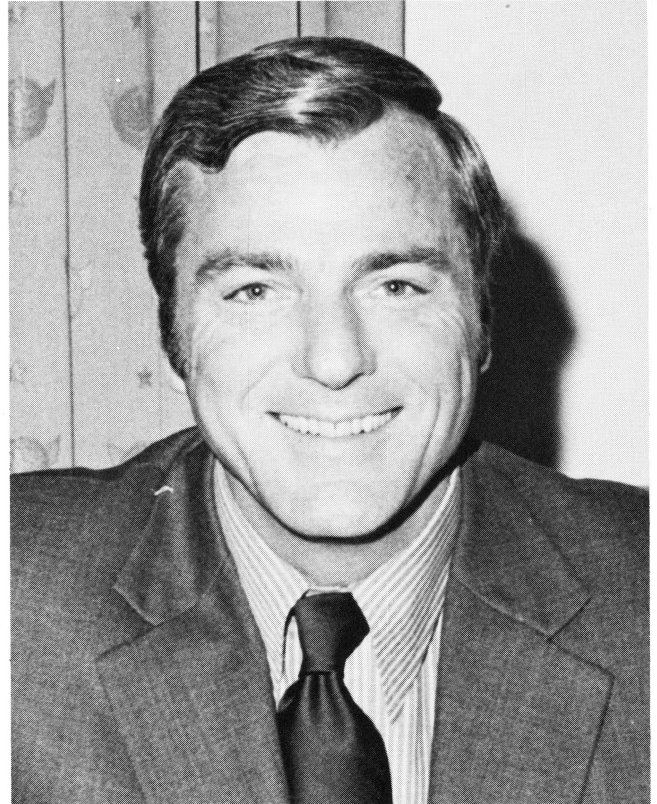

In 1948, at the age of 17, Mathias gained worldwide attention by winning the Olympic Decathlon gold medal in London. Four years later, at the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki, Finland, he repeated his victory, setting an Olympic and world record. He is the only athlete to ever win the gruelling Olympic Decathlon twice.

As a representative of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and on five trips abroad for the U.S. State Department, Mathias organized and encouraged sports and youth programs in America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Latin America. In 1956, he was President Eisenhower's personal representative to the Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia.

Mathias serves on the AAU Track and Field Advisory Committee.

Among the many awards the Congressman has received over the years are the AAU's Sullivan Award as the Outstanding Amateur Athlete of the Year, and the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce award as one of America's ten most outstanding young men.

Mathias, his wife (Melba Wiser) and their three daughters, Romel, Megan, and Marissa make their home in Visalia, California and Falls Church, Virginia.

The Decathlon...

Greatest Test of Athlete's Skill and Endurance

You'll have to look a long time before you find a more apt usage for the adjective "gruelling" than in connection with the Decathlon.

The Decathlon, as it is conducted today, represents what undoubtedly is the sports world's greatest test of an athlete's endurance, as well as his all-around track ability.

The Decathlon is an athletic competition comprising ten track and field events.

Each contestant is required to participate in every one of the events.

The Decathlon became internationally known in 1912 when it appeared on the Olympic Games program for the first time. In the Olympics at Stockholm that year, the ten events were spread over three days.

This departed somewhat from the original idea as conceived in Sweden, which called for all-around athletic skill, plus an equal amount of endurance. As a result, the event is now held over a two-day period, rain or shine, with five of the ten events run off each day.

The champion and place winners are determined on a point scoring basis which governs the Olympic and all other Decathlon contests.

The Decathlon differs from customary track and field contests since the victors in the individual competitions do not necessarily determine the ultimate Decathlon winners.

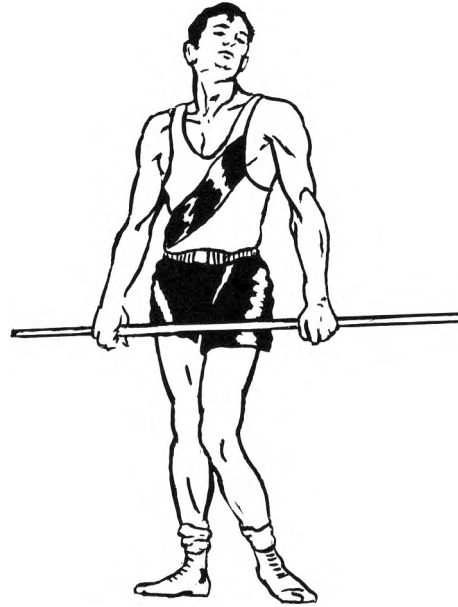

Points are scored according to a point table first compiled by the Swedish Olympic Committee, which provided that for results equal to the Olympic records made prior to 1912, 1,000 points were given. Tables were prepared for each event and, as an illustration, in the 100-meter dash 23.8 points were deducted for each one-tenth of a second performance worse than the 1912 Olympic record of 10.8.

In 1962, the International Amateur Athletic Federation adopted the present table after it had been revised several times. This point table rates the various performances of "time" in the races, and "distance" in the field events against what may be considered the ultimate performance. Points are earned or accumulated according to the individual athlete's prowess or ability and are totaled for the final scoring.

Competitors may excel in only certain contests, but in addition to speed, skill or ability of performance they must possess the all-around physical versatility, stamina and endurance to compete in all ten events.

Present National AAU Decathlon champion is Jeff Bennett, US Army. Bennett won the national title with 7910 points at Los Angeles, California on June 5, 1972. At the end of the first days competition he had 4026 points. The holder of the World Record is Nikolay Avilov of the Soviet Union, who established the new World and Olympic Record in the 1972 Games in Munich. He broke Bill Toomey's record of 8417 with an amazing 8454 points, to cap off an undefeated year.

DECATHLON HISTORY

The Decathlon was introduced as an Olympics Games event in 1912 in Stockholm, Sweden.

The first Olympic champion was H. Wieslander of Sweden. Under the original point system (he scored 7724.49 points.

Other Olympic champions to follow, and their scores under the same point system were:

- 1920, H. Lovland, Norway, 6804.34;
- 1924, H. M. Osborn, United States, 7710.775;
- 1928, Paavo Prjola, Finland, 8056.20;
- 1942, James Bausch, United States, 8462.23.

In 1934, the point system was revised with the result that it took better performances to garner the same number of points. First Olympic Champion under the revised system was Glenn Morris of the United States, who scored 7900 points at Berlin, a record that stood until 1950 when it was broken at the National AAU meet in Tulare by Bob Mathias.

The next olympics, held in London in 1948, saw Mathias, then an 18-year-old schoolboy from Tulare, cop the gold medal with 7139 points.

In 1952, Mathias won the Olympic championship for the second time—the only man ever to achieve that honor. At Helsinki, Finland, he set a new world record of 7887 points under another revision of the scoring system which lifted the point standards even higher.

In 1956 at Melbourne, Australia, the Olympic gold medal went to Milton Campbell of Plainfield, N.J., with 7937 points. In 1960 at Rome, was Rafer Johnson of Kingsburg, Calif., who turned in an 8392-point performance, just shy of the world record of 8683 he set during the national meet earlier that year. 1964 at Tokyo Willi Holdorf of Germany was first with 7887 points. In the last Olympics Bill Toomey, a four time U.S.A. champion won with a total of 8193 points, and an Olympics record.

The first U.S. Decathlon Championship meet was held here in 1915. Here are the champions since then and their winning point totals:

SIM INESS

Former U.S. Winner of the 1952 Olympic Discus Throwing Competition with a throw of 183'2". He will be the Official Starter for the Decathlon running events. Sim was the first man to throw the discus over 190'. Sim is presently Head Football Coach and an instructor at Porterville College.

Just six years ago, in 1967, there were very few 7000 pointers in the U.S. To qualify for this years senior nationals, you must score 7000 points. Last year there were 40 Decathletes over the once-magic 7000, and with the N.A.I.A. and N.C.A.A. Including the decathlon in their championships, there are more to come.

CORNELIUS "dutch" WARMERDAM will be an Honorary Referee: at the 1973 National AAU Decathlon Championships along with Bob Mathias & Rafer Johnson.

TRACK

COACH "DUTCH" WARMERDAM

Fresno State University's track and field coach, Cornelius "Dutch" Warmerdam, was one of the "greats" in the track and field world.

It was thirty years ago, in an era that had no fiberglass poles, that Warmerdam vaulted the incredible height of 15 feet with the bamboo pole. Also, in Modesto on May 23, 1942, he vaulted to a new world's record of 15 feet, 7-3/4 inches, a mark that stood for 15 years.

In 1942, he received the James E. Sullivan Memorial Award, symbolizing America's greatest amateur athlete of the year. He also has been named to the Helms Hall of Fame, the NAIA Hall of Fame, the Northern California Track Hall of Fame and the Fresno County Athletic Hall of Fame.

He was the head coach of the victorious American team in the 1968 Pan American Games.

Dutch has been head track coach at his Alma Mater, CSUF, since 1962. During his tenure he has coached his teams to four CCAA Championships, two NCAA District Eight College Division titles and an NCAA College Division National Championship.

During his student days at CSUF, he was a member of the track and basketball teams. In addition to his outstanding pole vaulting, he is remembered as a top flight basketball player.

Warmerdam is also the director of the famed West Coast Relays.

Dutch and his wife, Juanita, have five children; they are Mark, 26, Gloria, 23, Greg, 22, Dave, 20 and Barry, 16 years old.

RECOGNITION OF ACHIEVEMENT IS A KEY INGREDIENT IN OUR SOCIETY. MAN NEEDS RECOGNITION OF HIS DEEDS - RECOGNITION THAT CAN BE VIEWED BY HIS PEERS - SOMETHING HE CAN WEAR OR DISPLAY THAT SAYS "HERE IS A WINNER".

WE TAKE PRIDE IN OUR ABILITIES TO CREATE AND MANUFACTURE QUALITY ORIENTED RECOGNITION PRODUCTS - COMMENSURATE WITH ALL LEVELS OF ACHIEVEMENT.

JOSTEN'S EXTENDS A HEARTY WELCOME TO THE PARTICIPANTS, AND CONGRATULATIONS TO THE OFFICIALS AND COMMITTEE MEMBERS, ALL OF WHOM HAVE MADE THIS 1973 AAU DECATHLON CHAMPIONSHIPS POSSIBLE.
